

CASE STUDY

External Wall Insulation

“The external makeover has not only transformed the look of the properties but it will make homes much more comfortable for the residents during the colder months”

LULWORTH

MILITARY ACCOMMODATION

46 residential properties at Lulworth Camp have been fitted with External Wall Insulation to lessen the effect of heat loss through the cavity walled traditional terrace and semi-detached properties.

Anglian chose to use the Weber Therm XM (PM224) system External Wall Insulation system, completing the job with a Pine Nut silicone top coat finish.

The properties were vacated prior to work commencing and on completion a new group of residents moved in. The work has drastically improved the insulation and heat efficiency of each individual property, as well as transformed the look of the buildings.
